December 2009

Foreword

The Association is happy to release the 10th issue of Natural Rubber Trends & Statistics. Entire data and information reported in this issue were supplied by Member Governments, during the second and third weeks of December.

As reported in the last issue of this publication, ANRPC's redesigned website (www.anrpc.org) is ready to be launched on 1st January 2010. The new website provides free access to the Association's information resources. The site also provides a "sign-in" facility enabling visitors to freely receive all publications at their mail boxes. Users of this publication are encouraged to visit the site and offer feedback.

I take this opportunity to congratulate Mr. Suchin Maenmeun who has been appointed as the Director of Rubber Research Institute of Thailand. Dr. Hidde P. Smit is completing his five-year tenure as Secretary-General of the IRSG. The Association gratefully acknowledges his valuable contributions in initiating and successfully implementing a collaborative project between IRSG and ANRPC for improvement in data and forecasts of rubber industry.

Before I conclude, let me wish 2010 to be a very happy year for all.

Prof. Dr. Djoko Said Damardjati
Secretary-General

SUPPLY FALL ACCELERATES TO 6.4%

Review up to November 2009

The falling trend in supply of natural rubber (NR) accelerated to 6.4% as per data available up to November 2009 from the eight countries which together account for 93% of the global supply. Total production of NR in Thailand, Indonesia, Malaysia, India, Vietnam, China, Sri Lanka and Cambodia is estimated to have fallen from 9.153 million tonnes in 2008 (January to December) to 8.570 million tonnes in the latest 12 months of 2009 for which data are available.

As reported in the last issue of Natural Rubber Trends & Statistics, estimated total supply in the eight countries had fallen 5.1% during the 12-months ended October 2009. Possibility of a further fall in supply was also indicated. Official data gathered in the second and third weeks of December have supported this prognosis. The latest estimates for 2009 reveal that the production fell 8.3% in Thailand, 4.4% in Indonesia and 23.4% in Malaysia as compared to the corresponding rates of 6.8%, 4.1% and 18.0% reported in the last issue.

The following three tables summarise the trends in production in the eight countries:

Change in Production in 2009 from 2008

	Thousand tonnes	% Change
Thailand (January-October)	- 258	- 9.6%
Indonesia (January- September)	- 122	- 5.9%
Malaysia (January-November)	- 252	- 24.9 %
India (January-November)	- 59	- 7.6 %
Vietnam (January-November)	- 11	- 1.9 %
China (January-November)	+ 98	+ 19.3%
Sri Lanka (January-November)	+ 4	+ 3.4 %
Cambodia (January- December)	+ 15.8	+ 83.2 %

In Malaysia, the anticipated production for 2009 (January to December) has been substantially revised down from 951 thousand tonnes to 820 thousand tonnes. India also revised the production anticipated for 2009 from 827 thousand tonnes to 822 thousand tonnes (Table 1).

EXPORT OF NR

Changes in export of NR during 2009 from the same period in the previous year are summarised in the table below:

Change in Export in 2009 from 2008

	Thousand tonnes	% change
Thailand (January-October)	- 197	- 8.4%
Indonesia (January-September)	- 364	- 19.7%

AVERAGE YIELD

Average yield, measured in terms of annual production per hectare of tapped area, for the period from 2005 to 2010 are given in the table below:

Average Annual Yield ⁽⁵⁾ (Kg/ha)

	2005	2006	2007	2008	2009 ⁽¹⁾	2010 ⁽²⁾

Notes:

⁽¹⁾ Anticipated for 2009 (January to December).

⁽²⁾ Anticipated for 2010 (January to December).

⁽³⁾ Rubber forests in Sabah and Sarawak States are not accounted.

⁽⁴⁾ Not available with the government.

TRENDS IN CRUDE PETROLEUM OIL PRICES

Weekly average of West Texas Intermediate (WTI) crude petroleum oil prices declined from 78.47 US dollar per barrel in the week ended 1st November 2009 to 71.33 US dollar per barrel in the week ended 18th December 2009.

The Energy Information Administration (EIA) of the U.S. Government in its short-term outlook, released on 8th December 2009, forecasts the WTI crude oil prices to average 77 US dollar per barrel during this winter (October-March). The forecast for the monthly average WTI price dips to 75 US dollar in early 2010 and then rises to 82 US dollar by December 2010, assuming the US and world economic conditions to improve.

The following table consolidates the trends in average prices of WTI crude petroleum oil prices:
